FOREWORD

IN providing for war revenue, the War Tax Act has been so framed as to make the assessment for war purposes additional to taxes which are already effective under existing law. Taxes provided for in this Act are thus separate and distinct from existing taxes, and, when the time comes for abolishing war taxes, it may be done without affecting general tax laws existing prior to the War Tax Law.

This digest has been prepared in such a way as to make clear this separation of War Taxes from those existing before this enactment. If similar assessments have been made under former laws, both the existing tax and the war tax are given.

The amendments to the Federal Income Tax Law which are included under the subject of "Income Taxes," although contained in the War Tax Law, are amendments to the Income Tax Law of September 8, 1916, and, as explained above, should not be confused with the war tax legislation.

Synopsis of The War Tax Law

Approved October 3, 1917

War Income Tax

INDIVIDUALS

NORMAL TAX

In addition to the present rate of normal tax of 2%, the law provides for a further normal tax of 2% on incomes of residents or citizens of the United States in excess of $2,000 for married persons or heads of families, or in excess of $1,000 for single persons. By the assessment of this additional tax of 2%, incomes in excess of $4,000 for married persons or heads of families, or $3,000 for single persons, will be subject to a normal tax of 4%. (Sec. 1.)

It will be noted that the additional normal tax does not apply to non-resident alien individuals.

SURTAX

In addition to the surtax imposed by the act of September 8, 1916, a further surtax on incomes of citizens and residents of the United States and non-resident aliens, is imposed as shown in the chart on the following page: (Sec. 2.)

(The chart includes the rates of the existing tax, the war tax and total tax.)

COLLECTION OF TAX

Additional taxes under the War Tax Law shall be levied, assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as similar taxes imposed by the Income Tax Law of September 8, 1916. (Sec. 3.)

EXEMPTIONS

For the purpose of the assessment of the additional war tax, the specific exemption allowed to married persons or heads of families shall be $2,000, and for single persons, $1,000. (Sec. 3.)

By the amendment to Section 7, Act of September 8, 1916, it is provided that the head of a family shall be entitled to an additional exemption of $200 for each child dependent upon him or her, if under eighteen years of age, or if incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective (Page 12.)

RETURNS

Annual returns for taxes are required for net incomes of $1,000 or over, in the case of single persons, and $2,000 or over, in the case of married persons or heads of families. (Sec. 3.)

DEDUCTION AT SOURCE

Deduction of tax at the source on interest derived from tax free bonds shall not apply to the additional normal tax of two per centum until after January 1, 1918, and thereafter only one two per centum normal tax shall be deducted. Any further normal tax, for which the recipient of such income is liable, shall be paid by the recipient. (Sec. 3.)

CORPORATIONS

ADDITIONAL TAX

In addition to the tax of 2% now assessed on net earnings of corporations, under the act of September 8, 1916, the War Tax Law provides for a further tax of 4%, making the total income tax on net earnings now 6%. (Sec. 4.)

COLLECTION OF TAX

The additional tax shall be levied, assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as the tax imposed by the act of September 8, 1916, as amended. (Sec. 4.)

DIVIDENDS

For the purpose of the assessment of the additional tax, the income of a corporation shall be credited with the amount received as dividends upon the stock or from the net earnings of any other corporation, which is taxable upon its net income for the additional tax. (Sec. 4.)

EFFECTIVE DATE OF LAW

The additional taxes provided for shall be assessed for the calendar year 1917 and each year thereafter.

If a corporation has fixed its own fiscal year, the additional tax imposed for the fiscal year ending during the calendar year 1917 shall be assessed, collected and paid only on that proportion of its income for such fiscal year which the period between January 1, 1917, and the end of such fiscal year bears to the whole fiscal year. (Sec. 4.)

PORTE RICO AND THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

The provisions of this title do not extend to Porto Rico or the Philippine Islands, and the legislatures of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands are given power to amend, alter, modify or repeal the income tax laws enforced in Porto Rico or the Philippine Islands. (Sec. 5.)

Income Tax Amendments

Changes in the law of September 8, 1916

INDIVIDUALS

TAX ON DIVIDENDS

Dividends paid from earnings acquired subsequent to March 1, 1913, are taxable. The amendment of the Income Tax Law provides that dividends shall be deemed to have been paid from the net income of the year in which paid, or from the most recently accumulated surplus, and shall constitute income of the shareholder for the year in which received, but be taxed at the rates prescribed for the year in which earned by the corporation. The above provisions do not apply to distributions made prior to August 6, 1917, out of profits accrued prior to March 1, 1913. (Sec. 1211.)

Stock dividends are to be considered income to the amount of surplus, undivided profits and earnings so distributed. (Sec. 1211.) For example, if a corporation issues a stock dividend of one hundred shares, having a par value of $100 each, and transfers to capital an amount of surplus and undivided profits equal to the value of the stock distributed, the par value of the stock received shall be returned as taxable income.

INTEREST ON GOVERNMENT BONDS

Interest on United States bonds issued after September 1, 1917, is exempt from taxation only to the extent provided in the act authorizing the issue. (Sec. 1200.)

GENERAL DEDUCTIONS

The law relating to general deductions is changed with respect to deductions on account of taxes and deductions on account of interest on indebtedness. Interest on indebtedness incurred in the purchase of obligations or securities, the interest upon which is exempt from income tax, may not be deducted in determining net income. Taxes paid on income and excess profits will also not be permitted as a general deduction. This applies to both citizens and residents of the United States and to non-resident aliens. (Secs. 1201, 1202.)

Contributions or gifts within the year for religious, charitable, scientific, educational or humanitarian purposes, to an amount not in excess of fifteen per centum of the taxpayer's taxable net income, when verified under prescribed regulations, shall be allowable as deductions. (Sec. 1201.)

General deductions allowed non-resident aliens (Sec. 6) will be permitted only in case a true and accurate return filed of all income received from sources corporate or otherwise within the United States. (Sec. 1202.)

SPECIFIC EXEMPTION

Under the law as amended an additional exemption of $200 for each dependent child, if under 18 years of age, or if incapable of self support because mentally or physically defective, is allowed. This additional exemption operates only in the case of one parent in the same family. (Sec. 1203.)

The provision of the law permitting the specific exemption to non-resident aliens is repealed. (Sec 1203.)

PARTNERSHIPS

RETURNS

Partnerships, when required to file return, shall have the same privilege of fixing and making returns upon the basis of their own fiscal years as is accorded to corporations. (Sec. 1204.)

The share of profits of a partnership to which any taxable partner would be entitled for the fiscal year ending in 1916 or a subsequent calendar year, for which the rates of tax have been or shall be changed by law, shall be returned for taxation and the tax paid under the respective rates applicable to each calendar year in the proportion that the period of each calendar year bears to the full fiscal year. (Sec. 1204.)

Income derived from interest on Government bonds shall be credited in determining net income only to the extent that it is provided in the act authorizing the issue that they are exempt. (Sec. 1204.)

DEDUCTION OF THE TAX AT THE SOURCE

INDIVIDUALS, RESIDENTS OR CITIZENS

Deduction of the normal tax at the source on income of individuals, residents or citizens of the United States, is abolished, except with respect to tax free bonds. Exemption may be claimed from deduction of tax on tax free bonds by filing a certificate prior to February first. (Sec. 1205.)

NON-RESIDENT ALIENS

Deduction of the normal tax at the source on the income of non-resident alien individuals remains unchanged. (Sec. 1205.)

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS AND FIRMS

Deduction of the tax at the source on dividends payable to non-resident alien corporations not having a place of business in the United States is retained, and deduction of tax on interest on bonds of domestic corporations payable to non-resident alien corporations or firms, not having a place of business in the United States, is also continued.

TAX WITHHELD DURING 1917

Any amount of tax withheld by a withholding agent during the year 1917 on account of tax imposed upon the income of any individual, citizen or resident of the U. S., except in case of interest on tax free bonds, shall be released and paid over to such individual. (Sec. 1212.)

PAYMENT OF TAX BY RECIPIENTS

The entire tax upon the income of individuals, citizens or residents of the United States shall be paid hereafter directly by the owners of the income, except where deduction at the source is authorized.

DEDUCTION OF EXCESS PROFITS TAX

In assessing income tax, the net income embraced in the return shall be credited with the amount of any excess profits tax assessed for the calendar or fiscal year upon the taxpayer. In the case of a member of a partnership, the net income of the member shall be credited with his proportionate share of the excess profits tax of the partnership. (Sec. 1211.)

INCOME OF FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS

Income of foreign governments received from investments in the United States in stocks, bonds or other domestic securities, or from interest on deposits in banks, shall not be subject to tax. (Sec. 1211.)

CORPORATIONS

UNDISTRIBUTED SURPLUS

In addition to other taxes, a tax of 10% shall be imposed on the net income, beginning with the year 1917, of every corporation, joint stock company or association or insurance company, received during each year and remaining undistributed six months after the end of each calendar or fiscal year. (Sec. 1206.)

Undistributed income which is actually invested or employed in the business or is retained for employment, in the reasonable requirements of the business, is not subject to the tax. Likewise income invested in obligations of the United States issued after September 1, 1917, is not subject to the tax. (Sec. 1206.)

If the Secretary of the Treasury ascertains and finds that income is retained at any time for employment in the business and is not so employed or is not reasonably required in the business, the tax shall be assessed at the rate of 15%. (Sec. 1206.)

In case return is made on the basis of a fiscal year ending prior to December 31, 1917, the tax shall be imposed on that proportion of the income which the part of the fiscal year in the year 1917 bears to the whole of such fiscal year. (Sec. 1206.)

PAYMENTS OF DIVIDENDS

A corporation is required to include in its annual return a statement of its payments of dividends which are made in cash or its equivalent or in stock, including the names and addresses of stockholders and the number of shares owned by each and the applicable amounts in which such dividends were earned. (Sec. 1210.)

GENERAL DEDUCTIONS

The law relating to general deductions is changed with respect to deductions on account of interest on indebtedness and deductions on account of taxes. Interest on indebtedness, incurred in the purchase of obligations or securities, the interest upon which is exempted from income tax, may not be deducted in determining net income. Taxes paid on income and excess profits will also not be permitted as a general deduction. This applies to both foreign and domestic corporations. (Sec. 1207.)

INFORMATION AT THE SOURCE

The system of information at the source is substituted for deduction of the tax at the source with respect to income received by citizens or residents of the United States, except income derived from interest on tax free bonds. Information at the source shall apply to the calendar year 1917, but shall not apply to the payment of interest on bonds of the United States. (Sec. 1211.)

BROKERS' RETURNS

Every person, corporation, partnership or association doing business as a broker on any exchange, board of trade or other similar place of business shall, when required by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, render a return showing the names of customers for whom such person, corporation, partnership or association has transacted any business with such details as to the profits, losses, or other information as will enable the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to determine whether all income tax due on profits or gains of such customers has been paid. (Sec. 1211.)

RETURNS OF MISCELLANEOUS INCOME

All persons, corporations, partnerships, associations and insurance companies, in whatever capacity acting, including lessees or mortgagors of real and personal property, trustees acting in any trust capacity, executors, administrators, receivers, conservators and employers making payment due another person, corporation, partnership association or insurance company of interest, rent, salaries, wages, premium, annuities, compensation, remuneration, emoluments or other fixed or determinable gains, profits and income of $800 or more in any taxable year, or in the case of such payments made by the United States to officers or employees of the United States having information as to such payments, and required to make returns in regard thereto, are authorized and required to render a return to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue setting forth the amount of such gains, profits and income and the names and addresses of the recipients of such payments. (Sec. 1211.)

RETURNS OF INTEREST ON BONDS AND FOREIGN DIVIDENDS

Returns shall be required regardless of the amount of payment (1) in the case of payments of interest upon bonds and mortgages or deeds of trust or other similar obligations of corporations, joint stock companies, associations and insurance companies, and (2) in the case of collections of items of interest upon the bonds of foreign countries and interest from bonds or the stock of foreign corporations by persons, corporations, partnerships or associations undertaking as a matter of business or for profit, the collection of foreign payments of such interest or dividends by means of coupons, checks or bills of exchange. (Sec. 1211.)

DISCLOSURE OF OWNERSHIP

The name and address of the recipient of the income must be furnished on demand of the person paying the income. (Sec. 1211.)

PENALTY

Penalty for refusal or neglect to make return or supply information is fine of not less than $20 and not more than $1,000.

Any individual or officer of a corporation who makes any false or fraudulent return or statement with intent to defeat or evade the assessment of taxes shall be fined not exceeding $2,000, or be imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both. (Sec. 1209.)

COLLECTION OF FOREIGN ITEMS

Persons, firms, corporations or associations making collection of foreign payments of interest or dividends by means of coupons, checks or bills of exchange, are required to obtain a license from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Any concern that undertakes to collect such payments without having obtained a license therefor shall be subject to a fine not exceeding $5,000 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. This requirement is the same as that in effect before collection of the tax at the source was abolished.

LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUMS

Premiums paid on life insurance policies covering the lives of officers, employes, or those financially interested in any trade or business conducted by an individual, partnership or corporation shall not be deducted in computing the net income of such individual, partnership or corporation. (Sec. 1211.)

War Excess Profits Tax

“DOMESTIC” means created under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory or District thereof.

“FOREIGN” means created under the laws of any other possession of the United States or of any foreign country or government.

“UNITED STATES” means only the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

“TAXABLE YEAR” means the twelve months ending December thirty-first, excepting in the case of a corporation or partnership which has fixed its own fiscal year, in which case it means such fiscal year.

“FIRST TAXABLE YEAR” shall be the year ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, except that in the case of a corporation or partnership which has fixed its own fiscal year, it shall be the fiscal year ending during the calendar year, nineteen hundred and seventeen.

“PRE-WAR PERIOD” means the calendar years nineteen hundred and eleven, nineteen hundred and twelve and nineteen hundred and thirteen, or, if a corporation or partnership was not in existence or an individual was not engaged in a trade or business during the whole of such period, then, as many of such years during the whole of which the corporation or partnership was in existence or the individual was engaged in the trade or business.

"NET INCOME," in the case of a foreign Corporation or Partnership or a non-resident alien individual, means net income received from sources within the United States.

PERSONS, CORPORATIONS AND PARTNERSHIPS SUBJECT TO TAX

THE TAX, which is in addition to taxes under previously existing laws not hereby repealed (page 34), is assessed on the excess profits of corporations and partnerships, both domestic and foreign, and of individuals, residents or citizens of the United States, and non-resident aliens, with respect to their trades and businesses. For the purpose of this tax, a corporation or partnership is deemed to be in but one trade or business and all income is deemed to be received from such trade or business. (Sec. 201.)

The Law applies to all trades or businesses of whatever description, including professions and occupations, whether carried on continuously or not, except:

1. In the case of officers and employes under the United States, or any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or any local subdivision thereof, the compensation or fees received by them as such officers or employes. (Sec. 201.)
2. Income derived from the business of life, health and accident insurance combined in one policy issued on the weekly premium payment plan. (Sec. 201.)

CORPORATIONS, PARTNERSHIPS, AND INDIVIDUALS EXEMPT FROM TAX

1. FOREIGN CORPORATIONS OR PARTNERSHIPS OR NON-RESIDENT ALIEN INDIVIDUALS, the net income of whose trade or business during the taxable year from sources within the United States is less than $3,000. (Sec. 202.)
2. CORPORATIONS exempt from the Federal Income Tax and PARTNERSHIPS and INDIVIDUALS engaged in the same business or coming within the same description. (Sec. 201.)

DETERMINATION OF EXCESS PROFITS

FOR the purpose of the determination of excess profits, corporations, partnerships and individuals may, for convenience, be divided into four classes:

CLASS I. CORPORATIONS OR PARTNERSHIPS in existence or individuals engaged in business during the whole of any one calendar year during the pre-war period shall determine their excess profits as follows: (Sec. 203.)

Domestic Corporations

In the case of a domestic corporation by deducting from net income, the sum of (1) an amount equal to the same percentage of the invested capital for the taxable year, which the average amount of the annual net income of the trade or business during the pre-war period was of the invested capital for the pre-war period, and (2) $3,000. (Sec. 203-a.)

For Example: A corporation, having average capital invested during the pre-war period, amounting to $100,000 and an average net income for such period, amounting to $7,000, would be entitled to a deduction of 7% of its invested capital for the taxable year, plus the specific exemption of $3,000, in determining excess profits for the taxable year.

Domestic Partnerships and Citizens or Residents of the United States

In the case of a domestic partnership or a citizen or resident of the United States, by deducting from net income the same percentage of invested capital as in the case of a domestic corporation but the specific exemption allowed shall be $6,000 instead of $3,000, as in the case of a corporation. (Sec. 203-b.)

Foreign Corporations and Partnerships and Non-Resident Aliens

In the case of a foreign corporation or partnership or a non-resident alien individual, the tax shall be based on the income received from sources within the United States, and the deduction shall be an amount equal to the same percentage of the invested capital for the taxable year which the average net income received from sources within the United States during the pre-war period was of the average invested capital during the pre-war period. (Sec. 203-c.)

Invested capital shall be that proportion of the entire invested capital which the net income from the trade or business within the United States bears to the entire net income. (Sec. 207.)

Limitation on Deductions

The foregoing deduction shall be an amount not less than seven per centum nor more than nine per centum of the invested capital for the taxable year. (Sec. 203.)

Inability to Determine Pre-War Income

If the Secretary of the Treasury is unable to determine the average net income for the pre-war period, the war profits shall be determined by the method prescribed for Class III, page 24. (Sec. 203.)

CLASS II. CORPORATIONS OR PARTNERSHIPS NOT IN EXISTENCE, AND INDIVIDUALS NOT ENGAGED IN BUSINESS, DURING THE WHOLE OF ANY ONE CALENDAR YEAR DURING THE PRE-WAR PERIOD, SHALL DETERMINE THEIR EXCESS PROFITS AS FOLLOWS:

Corporations

In the case of corporations, by deducting from net income 8% of the invested capital for the taxable year, plus $3,000, in the case of a domestic corporation. (Sec. 204.)

For Example: A corporation, having invested capital for the taxable year 1917 amounting to $200,000, will be entitled to a deduction of 8% of $200,000 plus $3,000, namely a deduction of $19,000.

Partnerships and Individuals

In the case of a partnership or an individual, by deducting from net income, 8% of the invested capital for the taxable year, plus $6,000, in the case of a domestic partnership or resident or citizen of the United States. (Sec. 204.)

Business a Continuation of Former Business

A corporation or partnership, although formerly organized on or after January 2, 1913, which is substantially a continuation of a trade or business carried on prior to that date, shall be deemed to have been in existence prior to that date and the net income and invested capital of its predecessor for the pre-war period shall be deemed to have been its net income and invested capital. (Sec. 204.)

CLASS III. CORPORATIONS, PARTNERSHIPS AND INDIVIDUALS HAVING NO INCOME, OR HAVING A SUBNORMAL INCOME, DURING THE PRE-WAR PERIOD, SHALL DETERMINE THEIR EXCESS PROFITS AS FOLLOWS:

If the Secretary of the Treasury, upon complaint, finds that during the pre-war period, a domestic corporation or partnership or a resident or citizen of the United States, had no income or had income which was low as compared with representative concerns engaged in a like business, by deducting from the net income for the taxable year, the sum of (1) an amount equal to the same percentage of its invested capital, for the taxable year, as the average deduction (determined in the same manner as provided for in Class I without including the exemption of $3,000 or $6,000) for the taxable year of representative concerns engaged in like business, is of their invested capital for such year, and (2), in the case of domestic corporations, $3,000 or, in the case of domestic partnerships, or citizens or residents of the United States, $6,000. (Sec. 205-a.)

Determination by Commissioner

The percentage of the deduction to invested capital in each trade or business taxable under Class III shall be determined by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue under regulations prescribed by him. In the case of a corporation or partnership which has fixed its own fiscal year as the taxable year, the percentage determined for the calendar year ending during such fiscal year shall be used as the basis. (Sec. 205-a.)

Procedure for Assessment Under Class III

The law provides that corporations, partnerships and individuals coming within the provisions of Class III, shall be assessed in the same manner as provided for corporations, partnerships or individuals under Class I. The benefit of the basis of assessment provided under

Class III may be claimed only by filing with the Collector of Internal Revenue at the time of filing return for the assessment of the tax, claim for abatement (Form 47) of the amount by which the tax assessed under Class I, exceeds the tax computed upon the basis of assessment provided for under Class III. (Sec. 205-b.)

For Example: If A. B. C., Inc., had an average pre-war income of $7,000 and average invested capital for the pre-war period of $100,000, the percentage of the invested capital for the taxable year allowed as a deduction, if assessed upon the basis of a corporation falling within Class I, would be 7%.

If upon determination by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue it is found that the average percentage of deduction of representative concerns engaged in like business was 9%, the corporation, if assessed upon the basis of a corporation falling under Class III, would be entitled to a deduction amounting to 9% of its invested capital.

In order to receive the benefit of the latter deduction, A. B. C., Inc., will file a return showing the amount of tax due assessed on the basis of the 7% deduction. At the same time this return is filed, a claim for the difference in tax assessed on the basis of 7% and that assessed on the basis of 9% will be filed on Form 47.

Where claim for abatement is filed, collection of the amount of the tax covered by the claim in abatement will not be made until a decision is rendered on the merits of the claim. If, however, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue deems it advisable, he may require bond for the payment of such tax, and if such bond is not furnished as required, demand payment of the full amount of the tax assessed. If the full amount is collected and the decision on the claim for abatement shows an amount overpaid, such excess payment will be refunded. (Sec. 205.)

CLASS IV. CORPORATIONS, PARTNERSHIPS, OR INDIVIDUALS, IN CASES WHERE THE SECRETARY OF TREASURY CANNOT SATISFACTORILY DETERMINE INVESTED CAPITAL, SHALL DETERMINE THEIR EXCESS PROFITS AS FOLLOWS:

The taxable war profits shall be determined by deducting from the net income for the taxable year the sum of (1)

an amount equal to the same proportion of the net income of the trade or business received during the taxable year as the average deduction (determined in the same manner as provided in case of concerns falling under Class I, without including the $3,000 or $6,000 specific exemption) for the same calendar year of representative concerns engaged in same business, bears to the total net income of the business received by such concerns and (2) in the case of a domestic corporation, $3,000, or in the case of domestic partnership, or a citizen or resident of the United States, $6,000.

Determination by Commissioner

The proportion between the deduction of the net income in each trade or business shall be determined by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. In case of a corporation or partnership which has fixed its own fiscal year, the proportion determined for the calendar year ending during such fiscal year, shall be used.

INVESTED CAPITAL DEFINED

Domestic Corporations and Partnerships

In the case of a corporation or partnership, invested capital shall include:

1. Actual cash paid in.
2. Actual cash value of tangible property paid in other than cash, for stock or shares in such corporation or partnership, at the time of such payment (but in case such tangible property was paid in prior to January 1, 1914, the actual cash value of such property as of January 1, 1914, but in no case to exceed the par value of stock issued therefor), and

3. Paid in or earned surplus and undivided profits, used or employed in the business exclusive of undivided profits earned during the taxable year. (Sec. 207.)

The value included shall not exceed the actual cash or actual cash value of the tangible property paid therefor at the time of payment.

Good will, trade marks, trade brands, franchises, or other intangible property, bona fide purchased prior to March 3, 1917, for and with interests or shares in a partnership, or in the capital stock of the corporation (issued prior to March 3, 1917), in an amount not to exceed on March 3, 1917, 20 per centum of the total shares of the stock of the corporation, shall be included in invested capital. Such value, however, shall not exceed the actual cash value at the time of purchase, and in the case of the issue of stock, shall not exceed the par value of such stock. (Sec. 207.)

Residents or Citizens of the United States

In the case of individuals, residents or citizens of the United States, invested capital shall include:

1. Actual cash paid into the trade or business;
2. Actual cash value of tangible property paid into the trade or business, other than cash, at the time of such payment (but in case such tangible property was paid in prior to January 1, 1914, the actual cash value of such property as of January 1, 1914); and
3. The actual cash value of patents, copyrights, good will, trade marks, trade brands, franchises, or other intangible property paid into the trade or business at the time of such payment, if payment was made therefor specifically as such in cash or tangible property, not to exceed the actual cash or actual cash value of the tangible property bona fide paid therefor at the time of such payment. (Sec. 207.)

Foreign Corporations and Partnerships and Non-Resident Aliens

In the case of foreign corporations and partnerships and non-resident aliens, invested capital shall be that proportion of the actual invested capital, as defined above, which the net income from sources within the United States bears to the entire net income. (Sec. 207.)

Monthly Average

Invested capital for any year means the average invested capital for the year, averaged monthly. (Sec. 207.)

Reorganization, Consolidation, or Change of Ownership of Business

In the case of the reorganization, consolidation or change of ownership of a business after March 3, 1917, if an interest of fifty per centum or more remains in the control of the same persons, partnerships, or corporations, or any of them, no asset transferred or received from the prior business shall be allowed a greater value than would have been allowed such prior business, in determining invested capital, unless such asset was paid for in cash or tangible property, in which case the amount shall not exceed the actual cash or the actual cash value of the tangible property paid therefor at the time of payment. (Sec. 208.)

In addition to other taxes, a business or trade having no invested capital or merely a nominal invested capital, shall, in lieu of the excess profits tax, pay a tax of 8% on income derived from such trade or business in excess of $3,000, in the case of a domestic corporation, or of $6,000 in the case of a citizen or resident of the United States, or a domestic partnership. (Sec. 209.)

NET INCOME

CORPORATIONS

Net income of a corporation shall be determined as follows: (Sec. 206.)

For the years 1911 and 1912, upon the basis provided for under the Corporation Excise Tax Law, Section 38, Act of Congress, approved August 5, 1909, except that income taxes paid to the United States within such years shall be included. This makes the amounts of net income returned to the Treasury Department for the years of 1911 and 1912, for the purpose of the assessment of the Corporation Excise Tax, plus income taxes paid to the United States, the basis of the pre-war income for the years of 1911 and 1912.

For the year 1913, upon the basis provided for under the Income Tax Law, Act of Congress, approved October 3, 1913 (net income as shown on the Income Tax Return filed for year 1913), except that income taxes paid to the United States shall be included and that dividends from stock of other corporations whose net earnings were subject to tax under the Act of October 3, 1913, received by the corporation, shall be deducted.

For the taxable year, upon the basis provided for under the Income Tax Law of September 8, 1916, as amended, except that dividends from stock of other corporations, whose net earnings are subject to tax under the Act of September 8, 1916, as amended, received by the corporation, shall be deducted.

PARTNERSHIPS AND INDIVIDUALS

Net income of a partnership or individual for the pre-war period and taxable year, shall be determined upon the basis provided for under the Income Tax Law of September 8, 1916, as amended, except that the amount received as dividends from the stock of any domestic corporations, whose net income is subject to tax under the Act of September 8, 1916, as amended, shall be deducted. (Sec. 206.)

DEDUCTIONS ALLOWED PARTNERSHIPS

Domestic Partnerships

Domestic partnerships shall be entitled to the following deductions from gross income (allowed under Section 5, Subdivision (a) of the Act of September 8, 1916, as amended), in computing net income:

1. Necessary expenses actually paid in carrying on the business or trade.
2. Interest paid within the year on indebtedness, except on indebtedness incurred in the purchase of obligations or securities, the interest upon which is exempt from taxation as income.
3. Taxes paid within the year, other than those assessed against local benefits, and excess profits and income taxes.

4. Losses actually sustained during the year incurred in the business or trade arising from fires, storms, shipwrecks or other casualty or from theft, when not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.
5. Debts actually ascertained to be worthless and charged off within the year.
6. A reasonable allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear of property within the United States arising out of its use or employment in the business or trade; (a) in the case of oil and gas wells, a reasonable allowance for actual reduction in flow and production to be ascertained by the settled production or regular flow; (b) in the case of mines, a reasonable allowance for depletion thereof not to exceed the market value in the mine of the product thereof which has been mined and sold during the year for which the return and computation are made.

Foreign Partnerships

Foreign partnerships shall be entitled to the following deductions (allowed under Section 6, Subdivision (a) of the Act of September 8, 1916, as amended) from gross income in computing net income:

1. Necessary expenses actually paid in carrying on any business or trade conducted within the United States.
2. The proportion of all interest paid within the year on indebtedness which the gross amount of income for the year derived from sources within the United States bears to the entire net income.

3. Taxes paid within the year imposed under the authority of the United States, or its territories or possessions, or under the authority of any State or subdivision of any State, not including those assessed against local benefits or excess profits or income taxes.
4. Losses actually sustained during the year incurred in business or trade conducted within the United States, and losses of property within the United States arising from fires, storms, shipwrecks, or other casualty and from theft, when such losses are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.
5. Debts arising in the course of business or trade conducted within the United States, actually ascertained to be worthless and charged off within the year.
6. A reasonable allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear of property within the United States arising out of its use or employment in the business or trade; (a) in the case of oil and gas wells, a reasonable allowance for actual reduction in flow and production to be ascertained by the settled production or regular flow; (b) in the case of mines, a reasonable allowance for depletion thereof not to exceed the market value in the mine of the product thereof, which has been mined and sold during the year for which the return and computation are made.

RETURNS

PARTNERSHIPS. Every foreign partnership having a net income of $3,000 or more for the taxable year, and every domestic partnership having a net income of

$6,000 or more for the taxable year, must file a return of the income of the trade or business for the taxable year, setting forth specifically the gross income for the year and the deductions permitted under the law. (Sec. 211.)

The return shall be filed in the form prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue on or before March 1 of each year for the preceding calendar year, with the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the office of the partnership or individual is located, or in which the individual resides. (Act September 8, 1916.)

FIXING FISCAL YEAR. A corporation or partnership may fix its own fiscal year as the taxable year. (Sec. 200.)

If a corporation or partnership prior to March 1, 1918, makes a return covering its own fiscal year, and includes therein the income received during that part of the fiscal year falling within the year 1916, the tax for the year 1917 shall be that proportion of the tax computed upon the excess profits during such fiscal year which the time from January 1, 1917, to the end of such fiscal year, bears to the full fiscal year. (Sec. 200.)

TAX LAW REPEALED

The Excess Profits Tax Law, Title 2, Act of March 3, 1917, is repealed.

Any amount which has been or hereafter may be paid on account of the tax as imposed under the excess profits tax law of March 3, 1917, shall be credited toward the payment of the tax imposed by this law, but if the amount so paid exceeds the amount due under this law, the excess shall be refunded. (Sec. 214.)

REGULATIONS OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to make all necessary regulations for carrying out provisions of this law and may require the production of facts and data necessary for the collection of the tax. (Sec. 213.)

SEC. 202. That the tax shall not be imposed in the case of the trade or business of a foreign corporation or partnership or a nonresident alien individual, the net income of which trade or business during the taxable year is less than $3,000.

SEC. 203. That for the purposes of this title the deduction shall be as follows, except as otherwise in this title provided—(a) In the case of a domestic corporation, the sum of (1) an amount equal to the same percentage of the invested capital for the taxable year which the average amount of the annual net income of the trade or business during the pre-war period was of the invested capital for the pre-war period (but not less than seven or more than nine per centum of the invested capital for the taxable year), and (2) $3,000; (b) In the case of a domestic partnership or of a citizen or resident of the United States, the sum of (1) an amount equal to the same percentage of the invested capital for the taxable year which the average amount of the annual net income of the trade or business during the pre-war period was of the invested capital for the pre-war period (but not less than seven or more than nine per centum of the invested capital for the taxable year), and (2) $6,000; (c) In the case of a foreign corporation or partnership or of a nonresident alien individual, an amount ascertained in the same manner as provided in subdivisions (a) and (b), without any exemption of $3,000 or $6,000; (d) If the Secretary of the Treasury is unable satisfactorily to determine the average amount of the annual net income of the trade or business during the pre-war period, the deduction shall be determined in the same manner as provided in section two hundred and five.

SEC. 205. (a) That if the Secretary of the Treasury, upon complaint finds either (1) that during the pre-war period a domestic corporation or partnership, or a citizen or resident of the United States, had no net income from the trade or business, or (2) that during the pre-war period the percentage, which the net income was of the invested capital, was low as compared with the percentage, which the net income during such period of representative corporations, partnerships, and individuals, engaged in a like or similar trade or business, was of their invested capital, then the deduction shall be the sum of (1) an amount equal to the same percentage of its invested capital for the taxable year which the average deduction (determined in the same manner as provided in section two hundred and three, without including the $3,000 or $6,000 therein referred to) for such year of representative corporations, partnerships, or individuals, engaged in a like or similar trade or business, is of their average invested capital for such year, plus (2) in the case of a domestic corporation $3,000, and in the case of a domestic partnership or a citizen or resident of the United States, $6,000.

(b) The tax shall be assessed upon the basis of the deduction determined as provided in section two hundred and three, but the taxpayer claiming the benefit of this section may at the time of making the return file a claim for abatement of the amount by which the tax so assessed exceeds a tax computed upon the basis of the deduction determined as provided in section two hundred and three, but the taxpayer claiming the benefit of this section may at the time of making the return file a claim for abatement of the amount by which the tax so assessed exceeds a tax computed upon the basis of the deduction determined as provided in this section. In such event, collection of the part of the tax covered by such claim for abatement shall not be made until the claim is decided, but if in the judgment of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the interests of the United States would be jeopardized thereby he may require the claimant to give a bond in such amount and with such sureties as the Commissioner may think wise to safeguard such interests, conditioned for the payment of any tax found to be due, with the interest thereon, and if such bond, satisfactory to the Commissioner, is not given within such time as he prescribes, the full amount of tax assessed shall be collected and the amount overpaid, if any, shall upon final decision of the application, be refunded as a tax erroneously or illegally collected.

That if the Secretary of the Treasury is unable in any case satisfactorily to determine the invested capital, the amount of the deduction shall be the sum of (1) an amount equal to the same proportion of the net income of the trade or business received during the taxable year as the proportion which the average deduction (determined in the same manner as provided in section two hundred and three, without including the $3,000 or $6,000 therein referred to) for the same calendar year of representative corporations, partnerships, and individuals, engaged in a like or similar trade or business, bears to the total net income of the trade or business received by such corporations, partnerships, and individuals, plus (2) in the case of a domestic corporation $3,000, and in the case of a domestic partnership or a citizen or resident of the United States, $6,000.

except such distilled spirits as are subject to the tax provided in section three hundred and three, in addition to the tax now imposed by law, a tax of $1.10 (or, if withdrawn for beverage purposes, or for use in the manufacture or production of any article used or intended for use as a beverage, a tax of $2.10) on each proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon, to be paid by the distiller or importer when withdrawn, and collected under the provisions of existing law.

That in addition to the tax under existing law there shall be levied and collected upon all perfumes hereafter imported into the United States containing distilled spirits, a tax of $1.10 per wine gallon, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such wine gallon. Such tax shall be collected by the collector of customs and deposited as internal-revenue collections, under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe.

SEC. 301. That no distilled spirits produced after the passage of this Act shall be imported into the United States from any foreign country, or from the West Indian Islands recently acquired from Denmark (unless produced from products the growth of such islands, and not then into any State or Territory or District of the United States in which the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor is prohibited), or from Porto Rico, or the Philippine Islands. Such spirits may also be transferred from the receiving cisterns at such distilleries, by means of pipe lines, direct to storage tanks in the bonded warehouse and may be warehoused in such storage tanks. Such spirits may be also transferred in tanks or tank cars to general bonded warehouses for storage therein, either in storage tanks in such warehouses or in the tanks in which they were transferred. Such spirits may also be transferred after tax payment from receiving cisterns or warehouse storage tanks to tanks or tank cars and may be transported in such tanks or tank cars to the premises of rectifiers of spirits. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, is hereby empowered to prescribe all necessary regulations relating to the drawing off, transferring, gauging, storing and transporting of such spirits; the records to be kept and returns to be made; the size and kind of packages and tanks to be used; the marking, branding, numbering and stamping of such packages and tanks; the kinds of stamps, if any, to be used; and the time and manner of paying the tax; the kind of bond and the penal sum of same. The tax prescribed by law must be paid before such spirits are removed from the distillery premises, or from general bonded warehouse in the case of spirits transferred thereto, except as otherwise provided by law.

Under such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe, distilled spirits may hereafter be drawn from receiving cisterns and deposited in distillery warehouses without having affixed to the packages containing the same distillery warehouse stamps, and such packages, when so deposited in warehouse, may be withdrawn therefrom on the original gauge where the same have remained in such warehouse for a period not exceeding thirty days from the date of deposit.

Under such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe, the manufacture, warehousing, withdrawal, and shipment, under the provisions of existing law, of ethyl alcohol for other than (1) beverage purposes or (2) use in the manufacture or production of any article used or intended for use as a beverage, and denatured alcohol, may be exempted from the provisions of section thirty-two hundred and eighty-three, Revised Statutes of the United States.

Under such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe, manufacturers of ethyl alcohol for other than beverage purposes may be granted per-

SEC. 303. That upon all distilled spirits produced in or imported into the United States upon which the tax now imposed by law has been paid, and which, on the day this Act is passed, are held by a retailer in a quantity in excess of fifty gallons in the aggregate, or by any other person, corporation, partnership, or association in any quantity, and which are intended for sale, there shall be levied, assessed, collected and paid a tax of $1.10 (or, if intended for sale for beverage purposes, or for use in the manufacture or production of any article used or intended for use as a beverage, a tax of $2.10) on each proof gallon, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof gallon: Provided, That the tax on such distilled spirits in the custody of a court of bankruptcy in insolvency proceedings on June first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, shall be paid by the person to whom the court delivers such distilled spirits at the time of such delivery, to the extent that the amount thus delivered exceeds the fifty gallons hereinbefore provided.

Rectified Spirits

SEC. 304. That in addition to the tax now imposed or imposed by this Act on distilled spirits there shall be levied, assessed, collected, and paid a tax of 15 cents on each proof gallon and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof gallon on all distilled spirits or wines hereafter rectified, purified, or refined in such manner, and on all mixtures hereafter produced in such manner, that the person so rectifying, purifying, refining, or mixing the same is a rectifier within the meaning of section thirty-two hundred and forty-four, Revised Statutes, as amended, and on all such articles in the possession of the rectifier on the day this Act is passed: Provided, That this tax shall not apply to gin produced by the redistillation of a pure spirit over juniper berries and other aromatics.

When the process of rectification is completed and the tax prescribed by this section has been paid, it shall be unlawful for the rectifier or other dealer to reduce in proof or increase in volume such spirits or wine by the addition of water or other substance; nothing herein contained shall, however, prevent a rectifier from using again in the process of rectification spirits already rectified and upon which the tax has theretofore been paid.

The tax imposed by this section shall not attach to cordials or liqueurs on which a tax is imposed and paid under the Act entitled "An Act to increase the revenue, and for other purposes," approved September eighth, nineteen hundred and sixteen, nor to the mixing and blending of wines, where such blending is for the sole purpose of perfecting such wines according to commercial standards, nor to blends made exclusively of two or more pure straight whiskies aged in wood for a period not less than four years and without the addition of coloring or flavoring matter or any other substance than pure water and if not reduced below ninety proof: Provided, That such blended whiskies shall be exempt from tax under this section only when compounded under the immediate supervision of a revenue officer, in such tanks and under such conditions and supervision as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe.

All distilled spirits taxable under this section shall be subject to uniform regulations concerning the use thereof in the manufacture, blending, compounding, mixing, marking, branding, and sale of whisky and rectified spirits, and no discrimination whatsoever shall be made by reason of a difference in the character of the material from which same may have been produced.

The business of a rectifier of spirits shall be carried on, and the tax on rectified spirits shall be paid, under such rules, regulations, and bonds as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than two years. He shall, in addition, be liable to double the tax evaded, together with the tax, to be collected by assessment or on any bond given.

SEC. 305. That hereafter collectors of internal revenue shall not furnish wholesale liquor dealer's stamps in lieu of and in exchange for stamps for rectified spirits unless the package covered by stamp for rectified spirits is to be broken into smaller packages.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to discontinue the use of the following stamps whenever in his judgment the interests of the Government will be subserved thereby:

Distillery warehouse, special bonded warehouse, special bonded rewarehouse, general bonded warehouse, general bonded retransfer, transfer brandy, export tobacco, export cigars, export oleomargarine and export fermented liquor stamps.

SEC. 306. That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, is hereby authorized to require at distilleries, breweries, rectifying houses, and wherever else in his judgment such action may be deemed advisable, the installation of meters, tanks, pipes, or any other apparatus for the purpose of protecting the revenue, and such meters, tanks, and pipes and all necessary labor incident thereto shall be at the expense of the person, corporation, partnership, or association on whose premises the installation is required. Any such person, corporation, partnership, or association refusing or neglecting to install such apparatus when so required by the commissioner shall not be permitted to conduct business on such premises.

SEC. 307. That on and after the passage of this Act there shall be levied and collected on all beer, lager beer, ale, porter, and other similar fermented liquor, containing one-half per centum or more of alcohol, brewed or manufactured and sold, or stored in warehouse, or removed for consumption or sale, within the United States, by whatever name such liquors may be called, in addition to the tax now imposed by law, a tax of $1.50 for every barrel containing not more than thirty-one gallons, and at a like rate for any other quantity or for the fractional parts of a barrel authorized and defined by law.

SEC. 308. That from and after the passage of this Act taxable fermented liquors may be conveyed without payment of tax from the brewery premises where produced to a contiguous industrial distillery of either class established under the Act of October third, nineteen hundred and thirteen, to be used as distilling material, and the residue from such distillation, containing less than one-half of one per centum of alcohol by volume, which is to be used in making beverages, may be manipulated by cooling, flavoring, carbonating, settling, and filtering on the distillery premises or elsewhere.

The removal of the taxable fermented liquor from the brewery to the distillery and the operation of the distillery and removal of the residue therefrom shall be under the supervision of such officer or officers as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall deem proper, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, is hereby authorized to make such regulations from time to time as may be necessary to give force and effect to this section and to safeguard the revenue.

That upon all still wines, including Vermuth, and upon all Champagne and other Sparkling Wines, Liqueurs, Cordials, Artificial or Imitation Wines or Compounds sold as Wine, produced in or imported into the United States, and hereafter removed from the custom-house, place of manufacture, or from bonded premises for sale or consumption, there shall be levied and collected, in addition to the tax now imposed by law upon such articles, a tax equal to such tax, to be levied, collected, and paid under the provisions of existing law.

SEC. 310. That upon all articles specified in section three hundred and nine upon which the tax now imposed by law has been paid and which are on the day this Act is passed held in excess of twenty-five gallons in the aggregate of such articles and intended for sale, there shall be levied, collected, and paid a tax equal to the tax imposed by such section.
